

To develop a setting for a James Bond scene

Today you need to create a setting for your very own 'Bond' mission. You can base it on one you have seen on a video or you can use the pictures to help you. You need to describe it and ensure you are giving exciting and key information.

Select the setting you want and stick it in the centre to build a mind-map around.

As well as this, you could create a model or drawing of your setting to help you!

Click on the 'Setting Pictures' link for some more ideas.

E.g. As Bond took his grip on Slavoski's collar, the crisp, white snow began to crumble below their feet.

Attachments

Setting pictures.notebook

Action pictures.notebook